FOREWORD

We are doing our part to stimulate business activity by passing every possible price advantage to our customers. And this is not being done at a sacrifice in quality for never were we able to offer a finer lot of bulbs. All through this Spring list you will find quotations below those we have been able to make for many years and in a large number of the items the prices are the lowest ever quoted.

We again urge our customers to turn away from some of the older varieties which have been popular in the past to the long new list of finer things which have been developed in the past few years and which are now available in sufficient quantities to justify lower prices and permit plantings on a liberal scale. Only those with the best flowers can hope to operate profitably in these times and these best flowers can only be produced by a selection of the right varieties.

We are constantly broadening our line and thus maintaining our position as the foremost suppliers of the most complete line of bulbs and kindred items in the country. We are ever on the lookout for new or old neglected bulbous items which offer commercial possibilities and these are being added to our list from time to time.

We take the opportunity of thanking you for your patronage in the past and hope that we may continue to enjoy your good will.

GLADIOLUS

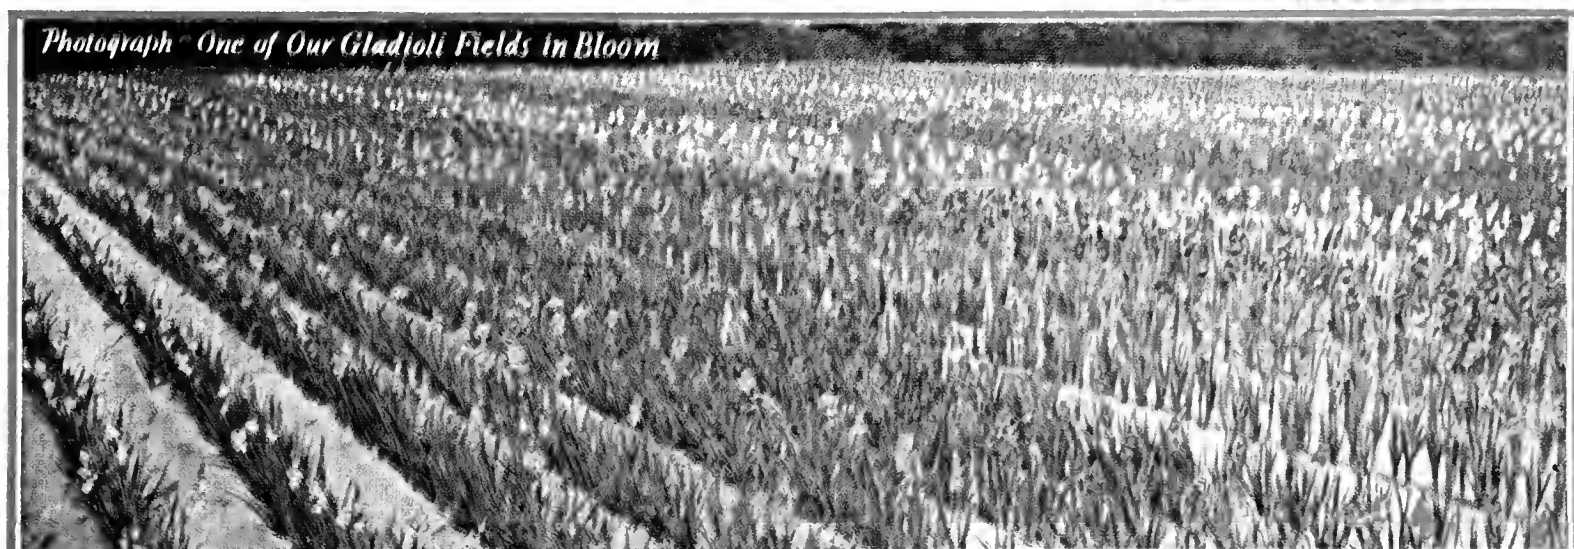

FROM OUR LONG ISLAND FARMS

There is a vast difference in the quality of Gladiolus bulbs that is not apparent by an examination of the dry bulbs and one must be familiar with the conditions under which they are grown before determinations can be made of the performing value. Our bulbs—for instance—are all grown from young stock which is a very important factor in the developing of high crown bulbs. We also treat every bulb before planting which keep the stocks healthy and stimulates the growth. Furthermore we do not cut any flowers whatever (except to remove the seeding pods) and this has a twofold advantage in that it permits the new bulbs to gain full maturing advantage of the whole plant and enables us to check up and rogue out any bulbs that may be mixed.

Such quality, plus reasonable prices and a well balanced list of varieties of proven merit, accounts for our rapidly increasing Gladiolus business.

Giant Flowering Hybrid Amaryllis

In our constant effort to seek out such bulbous items as seem to offer the greatest promise of commercial value, we have recently undertaken the extensive culture and development of a special strain of Amaryllis and now have, at our Florida farm, the most outstanding collection ever grown in this Country.

Few flowers rival the Amaryllis in grandeur, range of color, or simplicity of culture, and it remains only for the bulbs to be available in large quantities to put them among our most popular bulbous flowers. The stock that we are growing is a selection of the finest range colors produced by renowned specialists all over the world.

AMARYLLIS CULTURE—Amaryllis bulbs are ready for delivery early in November, but we do not recommend planting them until the latter part of January when the flower buds will be showing. Plant in five or six inch pots and water sparingly until root growth develops. After flowering, the bulbs maintain active growth and about the middle of October watering must cease and the bulbs dried off by laying the pots on their sides under a greenhouse bench or in a dry cellar. Early in February the bulbs will show new flower stems and the pots should then be watered and brought into the light, a temperature of 50 degrees is best at the start, and this can be increased to 60 degrees as the flower stems develop. Applications of weak manure twice a week at this stage will strengthen the plants and increase size of flower. Slightly larger pots will be necessary as the bulbs develop size.

Amaryllis Hallii (Lycoris Squamageri)—A hardy Amaryllis. Produces attractive green foliage early in Spring, foliage later dying down and about a month thereafter flower stalks appear, growing about 3 feet high with an umbel of large Lily shaped delicate pink flowers shaded with clear blue.

GLORIOUS MONTBRETIAS

We have been paying special attention to these beautiful bulbous plants and have now developed nice stocks in several fine varieties covering the usual range of colors. The flowers attracted much favorable comment wherever shown by us last Summer and we are sure that florists will not go wrong in making a planting, for their gracefulness permits of lighter decorations than possible with Gladiolus. Many of the varieties produce three and four flowers to each bulb, thus reducing the cost per flower to a nominal sum.
